THE CITY OF EAST Sioux Falls

From 1887 to about 1913, land approximately two miles east of present-day Sioux Falls was the thriving community of East Sioux Falls. The city boasted a hotel, several boarding houses, saloons and retail stores, a town hall, a cricket team, and a population of almost 600. It was a company town set up to quarry the great deposits of

Sioux Quartzite and the industry attracted Welsh, English, and

Scottish stonecutters and their families. The work of the stonecutters was highly skilled but dangerous, for they risked contracting a lung ailment from breathing the fine "Jasper dust," a residue of the cutting process. The city prospered as large quantities of stone were shipped by the Illinois Central Railroad to Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago, and other distant cities.

The financial "Panic of 1893" and growing competition from other materials led to decreased demand for the more elegant, and more costly, quartzite. By 1910, the quarries were producing only a small amount of crushed rock and in 1913, the town government self-dissolved.

IT'S wine TIME!

Is that glass of red calling your name? Or is the robust flavor of a white grape wine more your style? Our local wineries offer tastings so you can savor all the unique flavors, then find your favorites. Whether you're toasting a day in the summer sun or enjoying time with friends, you can't go wrong here.

A UNIQUE South Dakota EXPERIENCE!

Take in the 100-year-old farm overlooking the beautiful Split Rock Creek Valley and enjoy a wine tasting in the renovated barn originally built in 1911. PINK OR SIOUX Quartzite

Pink Quartzite, or Sioux Quartzite as it is known in the region, is the bedrock under all of Sioux Falls and its distinctive color is dramatically exposed in several areas including Falls Park.

Its strength and durability (one of the hardest stones in the world) made it a desirable building material and it was used to build many significant and historical buildings, as well as many homes and paved streets in Sioux Falls and the surrounding region.

Excellent examples include the Federal Building (originally the post office), the Old Courthouse Museum, the Washington Pavilion, the South Dakota State Penitentiary, Calvary Episcopal Cathedral, and many others in Sioux Falls.

THE QUARRIES IN THEIR DAY ...

Many of the earliest quarries boomed during the 1880s and early 1890s but suffered greatly during the economic panic of 1893. Several closed and others began to fade into history. The Works Progress Administration reopened some of the quarries in the 1930s during the Great Depression, but this revival was short-lived.

The high cost of cutting the stone and the development of less expensive construction methods led to the decline of Sioux Quartzite as a building and paving material. The stone is still quarried in several local quarries, but today it is used mainly as crushed stone in concrete and road pavement.

In Sioux Falls, PUBLIC ART is evident throughout the city. A cornerstone is SculptureWalk, with over 60 pieces of unique, eye-catching, artist-rendered designs that change each year. Check out the collection on foot or take a drive to discover some of the best art in the Midwest!

MAKING THE PAST

Cathedral OF SAINT JOSEPH

The Cathedral of Saint Joseph stands tall above the Sioux Falls skyline. This Romanesque and French Renaissance structure was built from 1915-1918 and dedicated May 7, 1919. The first mass was held in the unfinished church on December 8, 1918.

Over the years, the historic landmark has become a cornerstone of the Historic Cathedral District and through renovations has created an engagement of beautification to the neighborhood. A multi-million dollar, three-year renovation, was completed in July 2011 and transformed the cathedral back to its original grandeur and charm. The renovation included restoring much of the original paintings, mouldings, and structure.

Self-guided and guided tours available Monday-Friday. Please call (605) 336-7392 for more information or to schedule a tour.

In 2012, the SANFORD SPORTS COMPLEX opened to reaffirm Sanford Health's commitment to sports performance in the region. Now the Complex hosts more than 2.4 million visitors annually, giving athletes and fans the opportunities to train, compete, and cheer on their favorite teams. It is constantly expanding to offer new, exciting ways to elevate athletic development and competition. The Sanford Fieldhouse opened in 2012, with Sanford Pentagon following a year later. Several other athletic facilities and accommodations have popped up since then, with 18 outdoor turf fields for baseball, softball, soccer, and lacrosse...we're proud to be the home turf of Sanford Sports.

ASK FOR THE MANAGER SPECIAL AT BOTH PROPERTIES WHEN BOOKING YOUR STAY!

Sioux Falls reputation as the divorce capital and its connection to the Cataract Hotel

The Cataract Hotel was built in 1871 by William Henry Corson who recognized the potential of the area and decided to build the original Cataract at the northwest corner of Ninth and Phillips. Before long it became the premier luxury hotel of Dakota Territory with the softest beds and the finest restaurant, known to be the focal point of business and leisure.

A few years later the Cataract was expanded into a much larger brick building, and yet again, another building was built that bore the Cataract name. The third building was designed by renowned Sioux Falls architect Wallace Dow.

During this time, Sioux Falls was known as the “Divorce Capital of the Nation.” Lenient residency laws and multiple divorce grounds were available in Dakota Territory and South Dakota. The affluent seeking a divorce would come by train to Sioux Falls and stay the required 90 days of residency, which eventually changed to six months. This was a real economic boom to the city. A paid receipt from a hotel or boarding house was all that was needed. Thus, the Cataract was the hotel of choice for such individuals “waiting out” their time. One can only imagine the elaborate dinners and parties of the country’s wealthy as they spent their time in Sioux Falls.

is in the air...

IN THE AIR OR ON THE GROUND, YOUR TRAVEL EXPERIENCE IS IMPORTANT TO US.

THE SIOUX FALLS REGIONAL AIRPORT is always looking for ways to improve your experience and to do this they are making some changes. The airport is in the process of remodeling and expanding the concourse, ticketing gates, dining areas, and a new parking complex to be completed in 2024. Service additions for winter include: Fort Lauderdale, FL; Austin, TX, Orange County, CA, and Orlando International Airport. That's a total of 16 non-stop destinations this winter to escape to warmer temps!

saluting & REMEMBERING, HONORING...

The Sioux Falls area offers many opportunities to learn more about the people who make up our military force, the battles that have made us who we are, and quiet places to honor both those who have fallen and those serving today.

THE SOUTH DAKOTA VETERANS CEMETERY is the first federally funded, state-owned-and-operated veterans cemetery in South Dakota. This 60-acre property offers a picturesque setting that serves veterans throughout the state and around the country. The cemetery is a hallowed resting place for all eligible veterans and family members.

THE USS SOUTH DAKOTA BATTLESHIP MEMORIAL was one of the most decorated battleships of World War II, fighting in every major naval battle in the Pacific from 1942-1945. The memorial offers information, photos, and hands-on exhibits about this iconic vessel, so be sure to make time for a visit.

VETERANS MEMORIAL PARK is dedicated to the men and women who serve in the military of the United States of America. It's a place set aside for honor, remembrance, and reflection, demonstrating how the citizens of this region cherish and embrace the sacrifice and dedication of all veterans. Visitors will enjoy a welcoming entryway with flags, open plazas, memorial walls, and an amphitheater.

Sioux Falls is a melting pot when it comes to culture, so it only makes sense that the same would hold true for religious beliefs and worship choices. You are welcome to join our community for any of our services.
